

Automatic Claiming and Researcher IDs

By entering author or researcher IDs into Elements@IU, Elements can search for and automatically populate your profile with publications affiliated with these IDs.

Accessing the Automatic Claiming Page

The Automatic Claiming settings page is available via the Main Menu. It can be found on My Profile tab, under Settings.

| My Profile | Evaluation | Open Access | Reporting | Category Admin | System Admin |

Adding Researcher IDs

If you have an Author or Researcher ID for a specific data source, you can add it to your account on the Automatic Claiming settings page. You can also use this section to add email addresses that are affiliated with your work.

By clicking on the type of identifier you would like to add, you will be prompted to enter your ID number, code, or email in a pop up window, or you will be taken to their source site to connect your credentials.

Researcher IDs and Name Based Searches

When the Elements@IU name-based searches run, the system may identify researcher IDs that could belong to you. These will appear at the top of the Automatic Claiming settings page, as well as your Pending Scholarly and Creative Works page.

Do these identify you?

We'd like to use these to help clear your pending list, and possibly find more of your items online.

| ORCID : 0000-0002-7853-9079 Seen in 225 pending, 0 claimed, 0 rejected, and 1209 other scholarly & creative works » | YES NO IGNORE |

This will open a new tab of Elements, showing only the Scholarly & Creative Works associated with that suggested ID for your review.

Once you select "No," a pop-up window will appear asking you how you would like Elements to treat future publications associated with that ID. We recommend selecting "Auto reject associated items" so that the system does not prompt you to review items related to IDs which have already been identified as not belonging to you in the future.
